

These words are called possessive adjectives: my, his, her, its, our, your, their

I → my chair	Sarah and I we → our house
Andrew, the boy he → his toy	you your → your bag
Mom, the woman she → her car	the boys they → their bicycles
the dog it → its ball

(There is no apostrophe (') in its here. its ball ~~it's ball~~).

These words are called possessive pronouns: mine, his, hers, ours, yours, theirs

I → my chair The chair is mine .	Sarah and I → our house The house is ours .
Andrew his book → The book is his .	you → your bag The bag is yours .
Mom, her car → The car is hers .	the boys their bicycles → The bicycles are theirs .

(We can't use its in this way. The cat, its ball. The ball is its.
 There is no apostrophe (') in possessive pronouns. The car is yours. The car is your's.
 The pronoun doesn't change from singular to plural:
Their bedroom. The bedroom is theirs.
Their bedrooms. The bedrooms are theirs.

Exercise 1

Fill the gaps in these sentences:

- This book belongs to me. It is _____ book.
- This bag belongs to Andrew. It is _____ book.
- This car belongs my mother. It is _____ car.
- These shoes belong to you. They are _____ shoes.
- The bedroom belongs to the girls. It is _____ bedroom.
- The dog, Wolfie, belongs to my family. It is _____ dog.
- The cat has a sore leg. The cat is licking _____ leg.
- I am holding some money. It is _____ money!

Exercise 2

The Brown family are sorting the laundry. Sarah is looking at some t.shirts. Fill the gaps in these sentences with a possessive pronoun.

Dad: Which t-shirt is yours, Jane? The red one or the blue one?

Jane: The blue one is (a) . It belongs to me.

Mark: No! Dad bought me a new t-shirt on Saturday. The blue one!

Dad: You're wrong, Mark. I bought you a green one. The green one is (b) .

Mark: Oh sorry, you're right. The green one is (c) .

Jane: So the green t-shirt is (d) , Mark, and the blue t-shirt is (e) . What about this red one?

Dad: That red one belongs to Mum. It's (f) .

Mark: What about these two white ones? One is a large and one is a medium.

Dad: Those white t.shirts belong to Mum and me. They are (g) .

Answer Key:

Exercise 1 Answers

a. my, b. his, c. her, d. your, e. their, f. our, g. its, h. my.

Exercise 2:

a. mine, b. yours, c. mine, d. yours, e. mine, f. hers, g. ours.